F. Description of Award:

The Kingenta Agricultural Science Award recognizes those who have made significant contributions to China agricultural sciences in research, teaching, extension, and policy making, which result in securing better and sustainable food supply, implementing environmentally friendly management practices, and improving farmers' working conditions and profitability. The award consists of a certificate and $1000 honorarium provided through the Agronomic Science Foundation by the Kingenta Inc. and administered by the American Society of Agronomy.

G. Award Criteria:

The focus of this award is based on creativity and innovation as reflected through the scientist's overall contribution; evidence of credibility, integrity, and professionalism; influence or impact of the nominee for a more efficient, environmental friendly and sustainable agriculture in China; evidence of the nominee's contributions that result in improved management practices or furthered understanding of agricultural sciences in China; educational contributions made either directly or indirectly through mentoring the next generation of Chinese agricultural scientists; and recognition of extraordinary efforts to promote the adoption of agricultural technology in China, non-refereed types of publication will be recognized.

H. Format for Nominations:

A nomination format guide, approved by the Board of Directors or Executive Committee, is issued each year. The Chair and Committee members shall receive a copy of this guide at the time it is mailed from the Headquarters Office.

I. Eligibility of Nominations:

Nominations for this award are accepted only from individual active members of the Society. Members of the Executive Committee and members of the award committee are not eligible to submit nominations.

J. Eligibility of Nominees:

Membership in the Society is not required for this award.

K. Team Nominations:

Nomination of a team is acceptable, provided the following criteria are met: (a) at least one member of the team is an agronomist; (b) where other disciplines are represented on the team, the agronomist must have contributed 50% or more to the team effort; (c) only publications where all team members are authors, or honors and awards received by the team, may be listed; individual efforts must be omitted from the team nomination.

L. Scoring or Ranking Procedure:

The Chair and each member of the committee receive copies of each nomination. Using the award criteria as guidelines, each member ranks the nominees in order from 1 to n (the number of nominees). Each member's ranking is electronically conveyed to the Chair, who totals the points received by each nominee. The award recipient is the nominee receiving the lowest score. The Chair votes only in case of a tie. The award need not be presented in a given year if it is judged that the nominees do not meet the criteria.

M. Revising Guidelines or Procedures:

The award committee may recommend changes or revisions relative to criteria, description, selection process of recipients, etc., for this award. All recommendations must be approved by the ASA Board of Directors or Executive Committee before said recommendations may be implemented. It is preferable to submit recommendations through the Society Awards Chair; however, recommendations may be submitted through the President or directly to the Board of Directors or Executive Committee.

N. Ties and a Deadlocked Committee:

1. The Award Committee is expected to make every effort to break tie votes.

2. If the Award Committee cannot break the tie vote, the Award Committee Chair shall notify Headquarters. Headquarters will reproduce and send copies of the nominations of the individuals involved in the tie to the members of the General Awards Committee.
3. The General Awards Committee will review the nominations and vote. The Chair of the Award Committee in question will also vote but the vote will not be counted unless there is a tie in the vote of the General Awards Committee.
